KidsPeace's Dominick DiSalvo Joins Board of Directors of Network of Pennsylvania Behavioral Health Services Agencies

(SCHNECKSVILLE, PA) July 27, 2017 - Dominick DiSalvo, M.A., LPC, Senior Director of Clinical Services in KidsPeace's Pennsylvania residential program, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Council of Children, Youth and Family Services (PCCYFS).

PCCYFS is a statewide network of private agencies that contract with counties and managed care organizations to provide a wide range of child welfare, juvenile justice and children's behavioral health services - including in-home, community-based and residential treatment programs, along with foster care and kinship care. The organization focuses on supporting the critically important work its member agencies do to meet the needs of vulnerable children, youth and their families throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

DiSalvo has been with KidsPeace since 2012, and oversees all aspects of clinical treatment to ensure quality, integrity and coordination in the residential program. DiSalvo, of Bedminster Township, Bucks County, holds a master's degree in clinical counseling from LaSalle University. He is a Licensed Professional Counselor and a Nationally Certified Trauma Therapist (TF-CBT).

Members of the nonprofit association's Board of Directors are elected by its member agencies to serve two-year terms.

For 135 years, KidsPeace has been building on its expertise to give hope, help and healing to children, families and communities throughout the United States. Through its comprehensive range of residential treatment programs; accredited educational services; unique psychiatric hospital and foster care and community-based programs, KidsPeace is dedicated to helping people connect, transform and overcome their challenges to ensure a stable future, transition to adulthood and gain independence. Since its doors opened in 1882, more than 200,000 children have participated in one of the multitude of programs KidsPeace offers.
