KIDSPEACE
HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2018:

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Dear Friends:

Welcome to our 2019 Outcomes and Annual Report, including Highlights from 2018: The Year in Review.

At KidsPeace, everything we do is connected to the most important words in our mission statement – Hope, Help and Healing. Those words capture the essence of our organization and its commitment to the kids and adults we seek to serve - not just to relieve their suffering, but also to give them the tools and encouragement to build stronger, more productive lives.

In 2018 we put our mission into action in caring for nearly 10,000 people across our various services – KidsPeace Children’s Hospital at the Orchard Hills Campus in Pennsylvania’s Lehigh Valley; our residential treatment centers at Orchard Hills (Pennsylvania), Bowdon (Georgia), and Graham Lake (Maine); our wide variety of outpatient and community-based programs; and our foster care operations in seven states. We’re proud to note that these programs continue to enjoy high levels of satisfaction among clients and their families – in large part because of the continuing trend of broad-based reduction in the severity of symptoms among our clients.

In each of our programs at KidsPeace we see lives getting better and a positive future becoming more possible. That success, of course, stems first from the dedication of our exceptional associates. For the second year, we are including in Outcomes the list of those staff members who were recognized during the annual Associate Achievement Awards program (Page 23). On behalf of KidsPeace and the people we serve, I want to say congratulations to all our associates for another successful year.

2018 saw a number of projects that were years in the imagining stage become reality, thanks to the generosity of our communities. In Georgia, a multi-million-dollar fundraising campaign led to the opening of our new expansion, adding 20 beds to our residential facility in order to better meet the needs of youth in the state. At our Broadway Campus in Bethlehem, PA, the Lehigh Valley Board of Associates brought to life a long-planned improvement: a playground specially designed with the needs of kids with autism or sensory sensitivity in mind. A donation by our friends Scott and Tricia Reines made it possible to update the computer lab on the Orchard Hills Campus, advancing the education we provide to kids in our hospital and residential treatment there.

Those efforts are just part of the support for which we are so very grateful - whether it’s the biggest-ever outpouring of gifts donated to our holiday “Angel Tree” program, or the continued strong support of the Baltimore community for October’s Orioles Trick or Trot 5K, or the incredible resilience of the Fayetteville, North Carolina community in staging the KidsPeace Foster Care “Chair-ity Auction” just weeks after the historic flooding from Hurricane Florence, or the more than 800 individual and corporate donors who made our kids their priority in their charitable giving.

In the spring of 2018, I announced my intention to retire from KidsPeace, and at this writing we are transitioning the leadership of the organization to our new Interim President and CEO, Michael Slack. Mike has served in many roles at KidsPeace, most recently as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, and he has demonstrated exceptional leadership and a strong commitment to the KidsPeace mission and to our clients’ success. During our time together I’ve come to rely on Mike’s ability to move through challenges and into a better future, and I’m delighted that he will continue to serve this organization as Interim CEO.

At KidsPeace, Hope, Help and Healing are more than words; they are a way of life. As I prepare to end my tenure as President and CEO, I want to simply say “Thank you” to all my colleagues throughout KidsPeace, as well as to our numerous friends and supporters. I consider myself so lucky and blessed to have had the opportunity to live up to their promise with this excellent organization.

With best regards,

William R. Isemann
President and Chief Executive Officer

MODEL OF CARE

Each year, KidsPeace surveys its clients to gauge how well we met or exceeded their expectations in areas that comprise the foundation of our care-giving philosophy - the KidsPeace Model of Care. The 2018 survey results demonstrated that our treatment efforts remain in close alignment with the Model of Care in the opinion of our most important constituency – our clients.

Safety

Safety is a primary need and a fundamental right of every child.

Dignity

Every child is unique and has worth and value.

Character

Children learn by making decisions and taking action based upon values.

Relationships & Belonging

Children grow in the context of supportive relationships.

Empowerment

Every child has powerful potential.

Transformation

Children discover strengths through choice, risk, failure, insight and success.

The KidsPeace Model Of Care Is:

Aligned: building upon and integrated into the KidsPeace platform statement.

Value-driven: describing the goals of our service as the outcome of our beliefs.

Kid-centered: placing children as central to all programs and participation in organizational life and responsibility.

Strength-based: recognizing the strengths and potential of youth rather than their deficits, and empowering competent development by children.

Peer-related: developing relationships of the individual to the peer group, which is crucial to growth toward independent and successful living.

92% of clients report that they are taking steps toward making positive changes in their life as a result of KidsPeace

88% of clients report that KidsPeace has improved their character

DEMOGRAPHICS

In 2018, KidsPeace provided treatment and help to 9,865 clients across its hospital and residential treatment services, outpatient and community programs, and foster care operations - including 7,010 new admissions.

2018 Admissions

2018 Referrals

- KidsPeace Pennsylvania residential received referrals from 33 states and the District of Columbia - CA, CO, CT, DE, FL, GA, IA, ID, IL, MA, MD, ME, MI, MN, MT, NC, NH, NJ, NM, NV, NY, OH, OK, PA, RI, TN, TX, UT, VA, VT, WA, WI, WV

- Overall, KidsPeace hospital, residential and foster care received 13,882 referrals for our care

Hospital = 6,467

Pennsylvania Residential = 1,475

Georgia Residential = 777

Maine Residential = 230

Foster Care = 4,933

RESOURCES AND EXPENDITURES

Over its 137-year history, KidsPeace has built a reputation for providing a level of care noted for its exceptional quality and effectiveness. For a nonprofit like KidsPeace, providing such care requires substantial financial resources. The bulk of our funding comes from fees paid by governmental agencies and private insurers; we are fortunate also to have a base of generous donors - individuals, foundations and granting organizations - who provide additional funding for our variety of services.

More than four out of every five dollars spent by KidsPeace in 2018 went toward program expenses to provide care and treatment to our clients, with the remainder funding administration, marketing and advancement activities.

Total Assets $65 Million • Total Revenue $126 million

All financials provided are UNAUDITED at time of this publication. Audited financials for FY 2018 are expected to be available in April 2019.

At KidsPeace, clinical design and data-based decision-making are at the forefront of our efforts to help the youth we care for empower themselves to transform from victims to survivors to ultimately thrivers, by overcoming a life of emotional, mental, developmental, and behavioral symptoms caused by trauma.

In 2018, we expanded programs in Foster Care and Community Programs across the country; increased our use of telepsychiatry to help improve access for youth and families; expanded the use of a free walk-in assessment service in Pennsylvania-Based Community Programs, re-designed our Pennsylvania Residential services to focus on Trauma-Informed Care and Community Living; and increased the capacity in our Georgia Residential Program by 20 beds. In doing so, KidsPeace made the investment and determination to have clinical outcomes be an integral part of program development.

Throughout many of our programs, we continue to utilize overall symptom improvement assessments, including the Brief Psychiatric Rating Scale for Children, and we also expanded the use of targeted symptom monitoring through the Child PTSD Symptom Scale, the Trauma History Questionnaire, the Social Skills Improvement System, the Child Behavior Check List, and the Casey Life Skills Assessment to ensure truly individualized care for each of our children. Educationally we have taken pride through the years by helping our youth make strides towards improving their reading and math abilities by using assessments to target interventions for the individual student.

In 2018, we also looked to have the voice of our youth and families help to identify if the program meets their needs, through satisfaction surveys and in some programs the development of youth advisory councils, to help empower youth to be the drivers of their own care. Additionally, we made it a priority to track where our treatment takes our youth following their time at KidsPeace.

We will continue to emphasize data-driven assessments of the effectiveness of our programs, to ensure that they continue to contribute to the successful transition of our youth and families to thrivers in the community at large.

Ultimately KidsPeace has continued to innovate, improve, and help shape the discussions of what quality clinical treatment should be. But the truest assessment of our clinical outcomes come from our youth and families, through comments like “I have begun to trust people again” and “The staff worked really hard to help me feel safe.”

In 2018 KidsPeace established the Culture of Safety Committee, in recognition of the vital role Safety plays in our Model of Care. The committee includes leaders representing all KidsPeace programs, and works to develop and implement tools that improve overall safety for our associates in direct care operations. Many of us have worked in direct care positions and are familiar with the challenges of the job and the role safety plays in ensuring the highest quality of care for our clients.

In our first year, we established a process for collecting and analyzing data on injury trends, to help program leadership reduce risk in their specific programs. We also are working to craft effective new safety initiatives through the philosophy of Total Quality Management by obtaining feedback from associates and using it to improve our efforts. This includes inviting a guest direct care associate to each committee meeting to discuss their observations and safety concerns.

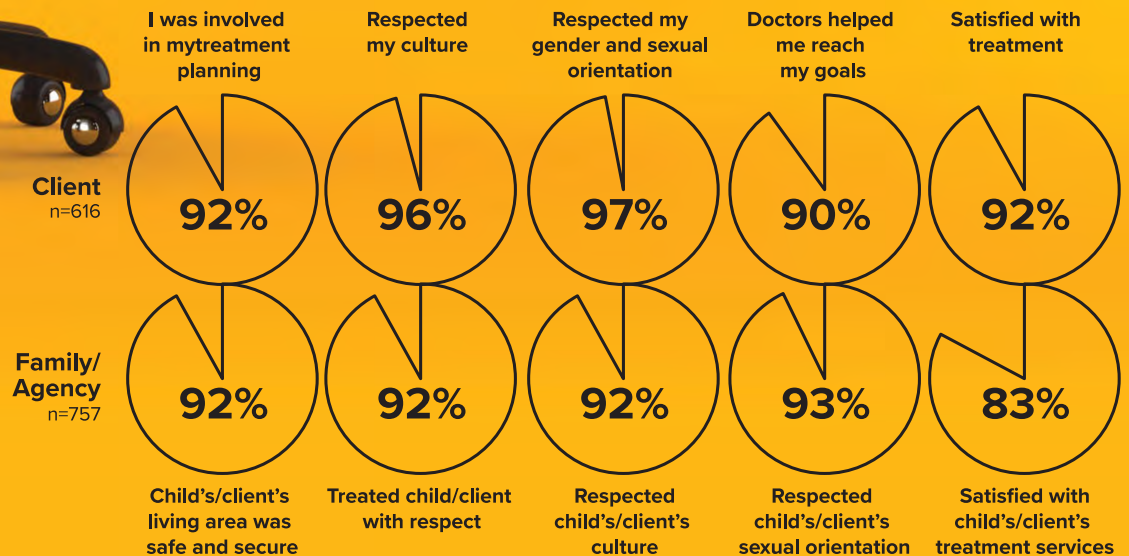

We also established a Corporate Workplace Violence Prevention Program, in light of the shocking statistic that the risk of becoming a victim of workplace violence may be three times greater for healthcare workers than employees in other industries. Our Workplace Violence Prevention Program was developed using OSHA guidelines, and includes numerous organizational strategies to improve associate safety throughout KidsPeace.

Our Culture of Safety initiative reflects our belief at KidsPeace that the safety of our clients and staff is both a fundamental commitment of our organization, and a shared responsibility among all those involved.

Over its long history, KidsPeace has looked to pioneer the best treatment programs for the youth and adults we serve. The most recent data suggests that youth whom are referred and placed at KidsPeace suffer from at least 9 different categories of trauma prior to coming into our programs – including those related to commercial sexual exploitation, often referred to as human trafficking.

In 2016, our Pennsylvania Residential Treatment program made the data-based decision to bring Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT) to the youth in our care, and piloted what became our Trauma Resiliency Empowerment and Elevation (T.R.E.E.) program. T.R.E.E. combines the concepts of TF-CBT with a Life Skills component (Community Living); the combination results in a holistic, individualized approach for youth whom have survived numerous traumas.

KidsPeace has collaborated with numerous community stakeholders to bring the national TF-CBT certification program to many of our team members and leadership. In October 2018, our efforts were recognized by the City of Philadelphia’s Department of Behavioral Health and Intellectual disability Services’ Evidence-Based Practice and Innovation Center (EPIC), as KidsPeace became the first residential treatment program to be designated by EPIC an Evidence-Based Practice (EBP) program for its use of TF-CBT.

Due to the hard work of our associates in putting TF-CBT to work in our program, KidsPeace has been able to show consistent improvement in overall symptom reduction, and better overall quality of care.

I was asked to describe what our new library at the Graham Lake campus, made possible by funding from the Stephen and Tabitha King Foundation, means to me. I could write pages in response to this question - how it enhances the experiences of staff and students, how it promotes collaboration and being part of a team, how it is a tool for teaching, learning, and prompting of responsibility and social skills, and how it benefits our entire campus.

All of that is true, but for me it's more important to realize what my students believe the library means to THEM. So ... I asked them:

- “Because I can read the books and they give me ideas and fill my imagination.” (BG-6th grader)
- “The Library here at KidsPeace is really important to me because as a high schooler I need community service hours. So when I go to the library I can organize the books, and clean the library.” (LD- 10th grader)
- “It’s nice and calming to kids like me.” (KS-8th grader)
- “It is very educational. It could also help with your vocabulary.” (JW-7th grader)
- “Because it is a place I know I can go to, to think.” (AC-10Th grade)
- “Some kids have voiced that the library makes them feel more like a ‘normal’ kid.” (Staff member)

I have pages among pages of responses like these from the kids concerning the importance of our library. In the end, they are my reason – THE reason – why the library is important to me.

2018 ME Residential Satisfaction Survey

The popular saying is “It takes a village to raise a child.” But we see it a little differently; 2018 offered us many examples of how it takes a community to help us heal a child.

Whether it was South of Heaven BBQ and Little Hawaiian Restaurant preparing and providing special meals for staff and clients, or dozens of our neighbors from the surrounding area joining forces to support and deliver a special Thanksgiving dinner event, we experienced the truth that a good meal and fellowship often provides as much nourishment for the spirit as it does for the body.

We also received the gift of a remarkable Christmas Banquet in December, made possible by donations and volunteering from residents and community leaders. 250 clients, staff and supporters were entertained by famed performers Rhona Bennett, Andrew Weaver and West Georgia’s own Babbie Mason – resulting in a night none of us will ever forget.

Our community also embraced the chance to add to our program offerings. Last May, IAM Seminars and the City of Bowdon helped KidsPeace clients and staff rebuilt our Outdoor Adventure Course. And thanks to support from the local community foundation and the Rachel’s Wish organization, equine therapy was provided to 100 of our kids.

And, of course, our new 10,000 square foot addition opened in September – including a new 20-bed unit designed specifically for girls with traumatic experiences. The new wing was fully funded by the generosity of individuals and organizations throughout the state of Georgia.

It truly does take a community, and we feel very fortunate to be part of one that recognizes the challenges our kids face and wants to join us in helping them heal.

In the spring of 2016, a few of my staff and I realized that we all had previously worked at summer camps prior to working at KidsPeace. As we relished the memories of camping out under the stars, archery, and canoeing, we bonded over our shared experience of leading children in these activities and watching them grow throughout their short time with us.

Realizing that many of the client population we work with have not been able to go to summer camp, we felt compelled to create the Campership program, so that they too could share the experience of summer camp while at KidsPeace.

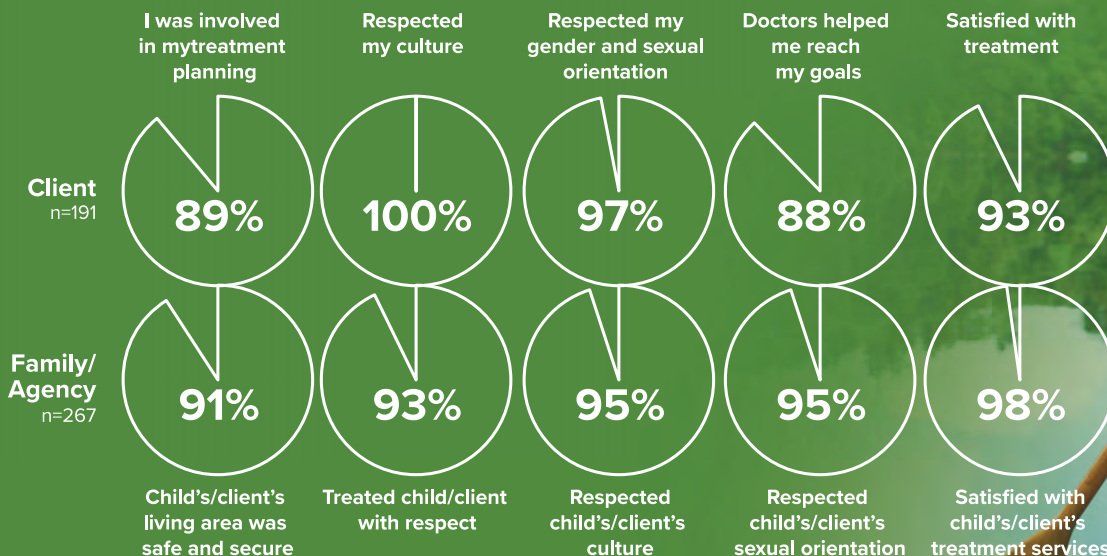

With the help of generous donors in our community and camp directors who shared in our vision, we have been able to send more than thirty children to summer camp at no cost to their foster parents or the state. We've even grown to the point where summer camps now are reaching out to KidsPeace about how we can work together in the summer of 2019.

Our staff view summer camp as an opportunity where children will not only have an unforgettable week filled with fun and friendship, but they will be in a setting where they can grow in their character. We will continue to look for more opportunities to share the gift of camp with the children at KidsPeace.

Donations Make a Difference

With the help of the KidsPeace Georgia Board of Associates, $2.3 million was raised towards the capital campaign. As a result, KidsPeace completed an expansion of the campus that resulted in 20 additional beds for Georgia's youth, a bright and open common area enhanced with a clerestory that allows in copious natural light and new meeting areas for families, children and staff.

The KidsPeace Lehigh Valley Board of Associates worked tirelessly to raise more than $30,000 for the purchase and installation of a sensory-friendly playground for children with autism to enjoy on the KidsPeace Broadway Campus in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Funding from Capital Group in Indiana and CareFirst in Maryland helped defray costs for the purchase and implementation of the new Electronic Health Records (EHR) system at KidsPeace Foster Care programs in these states.

Generous funding from Community Foundation of West Georgia and Bowdon Hospital Authority is making equine therapy possible for 100 youth in care at the KidsPeace Bowdon Campus in Bowdon, Georgia. Left, an instructor leads a group of KidsPeace students participating in equine therapy while Bowdon KidsPeace Executive Director Louis Shagawat rides.

Funding from Dr. Scott and Tricia Reines allowed KidsPeace to update the computer lab in the Donley Therapeutic Education Center on the KidsPeace Orchard Hills Campus in Orefield, Pennsylvania, giving students an opportunity to learn new skills with new equipment.

Clear Channel Airports joined with other donors in Pennsylvania to ensure that children in KidsPeace care on the Orchard Hills Campus and in the KidsPeace Children's Hospital received very special holiday gifts through the Angel Tree campaign. Similar Angel Tree campaigns were held at KidsPeace programs across all eight states where programs are located.

Capital Group provided grant funding, which gave youth in foster care a chance to explore and enjoy the outdoors at summer camps that they might not otherwise have had the opportunity to attend.

Tee and Jennifer Green, about 150 of their friends and family, KidsPeace Staff and KidsPeace teens joined with songwriter Monte Powell to write a song based on the KidsPeace mission of Hope, Help and Healing. Listen to it at www.kidspeace.org/hope-help-and-healing-by-monty-powell

Two state grants allowed KidsPeace Outpatient Programs to expand their mental health programs in both Allentown and Tobyhanna, Pennsylvania and prepare for a new drug and alcohol counseling center in both locations in 2019.

Shuckers Oyster House generously and proudly supported our Georgia youth in a variety of in-restaurant fundraising initiatives throughout the year, providing over $5,000 in support.

Funding from Women United, Lehigh County Community Foundation, Just Born Foundation and Board Member Sandra Kerr allowed KidsPeace to expand its Enhanced Life Skills programs, which provide therapeutic support and life skills training to youth who have been victims of commercial sexual exploitation (CSEC), or trafficking.

The PA Dept. of Education Division of Food and Nutrition provided funds for a new steamer. The steamer is more energy efficient, will increase food safety, and improve the nutrition of the food we provide to the children and youth in our care at the KidsPeace Campus in Orefield, Pennsylvania.

Community Foundation of Greater Atlanta, Roopeville Road Baptist Church, Midway Church, Shuckers Oyster House, Rhona Bennett, Andrew Weaver and Babbe Mason donated time, money and talent to bring a special Christmas celebration to the youth of KidsPeace Georgia.

KidsPeace utilized grant funding generously received from Foundations Community Partnership, TE Connectivity and Genuardi Family Foundation to create and promote a web-based training to support foster and kinship families who are caring for infants and children impacted by parental drug use.

With the leadership and generosity of Wanda and David Darrah and their many friends, all the bedrooms at the Georgia Campus were furnished with new furniture for the 80 youth in our care.

TE Connectivity generously granted KidsPeace funding towards the printing and distribution of Healing Magazine, a publication for mental health professionals, foster families and other caregivers and related professionals. Healing Magazine is distributed free to over 20,000 subscribers, two times a year and is available digitally on www.healingmagazine.org.

Whether providing art material so the children in our hospital can express themselves in color, sending a gift to make sure a child with us in Maine has a package to open on Christmas Day, or providing the funding that allows us to build a wing that adds healing light for the youth in care in Georgia, your gifts make a difference in the lives of the children and families we serve.

We can't do what we do, without your support. Thank you.

VOLUNTEERS

Regina Thompson

“Regina Thompson wholeheartedly stepped in as our Board Chair when the position became vacant mid-year of 2017. Her determination and passion to help has propelled the Fayetteville Board in a direction to go beyond and become trailblazers with their fundraising endeavors. Regina’s time and efforts continue to cultivate the mission of KidsPeace in Fayetteville and surrounding communities. We are humbled and grateful to have Regina as part of our KidsPeace family.”

- Jennifer Lescaleet, Program Manager Fayetteville, NC

Jonathan Craig

“Jonathan Craig is always available for the BOA as he participates in conference calls whether he is working, or sitting in an airport. He has organized a giving tree with his employer for the Children’s Holiday Party. He has been an active participant in starting the BOA.”

- Heather Moore, Eastern Regional Manager, PA Foster Care

Carrie Bender

Carrie’s spirit and heart drive her to support KidsPeace and the children we serve. About supporting our children at Christmas time Carrie said

“We are so happy to help! Our people are so excited to give these kids a Christmas they will remember forever. I bet almost all the wishes are being filled! I will collect all the bags and schedule a time to deliver them to you. Our company van will be filled to the max just like the First Night Bags!

Personally, this will be the best part of my holiday season. Shopping for the children I picked and then coordinating this event for everyone brings me so much joy. This is truly what the season is all about!”

- Ann McCauley, Vice President of Development

Lonnie McCullough

“Lonnie, an employee of Clear Channel, joined the Lehigh Valley KidsPeace Board of Associates in 2018. With his dynamic personality, he jumped right in to tell the story of why the sensory playground is important to children with sensory challenges. In addition to helping the Lehigh Valley Board of Associates successfully raise the funds to re-build the sensory playground, he also coordinated the Angel Campaign at Clear Channel. He ended his year of committed service to KidsPeace by coordinating co-workers to visit our Orchard Hills Campus dressed as Santa Claus, Mrs. Claus and an elf. The holiday cheer provided smiles, laughs and a wonderful time to our kids.”

- Gina Stano, Director of Community Relations

Tim Burke

“Tim, an employee of People First, has been involved with KidsPeace since 2009 and he has been 100% committed to our mission. Tim is the first person to ask “What do you need me to do?”. He and through him, People First supports KidsPeace by participating in the Angel Tree Campaign and the Golf Classic. As a new member of our Lehigh Valley Board of Associates in 2018 he supported the Sensory Playground Project --- a project that raised over $36,000 in less than a year. The new playground was installed in September of 2018.”

- Gina Stano, Director of Community Relations
